ROY WHITE WAS SHOT; MISTAKEN FOR MOOSE

New Lies in Public Hospital in Critical Condition—Bullet Entered His Back—Party From Fort Saskatchewan.

Wood reached the city last night of a serious and probably fatal shooting accident that took place on Monday morning near the Vermilion river about sixty miles to the north east of Fort Saskatchewan.

The victim, Roy White, a young man of about twenty-five years of age was brought to the city last night and is now at the Public Hospital in a critical condition.

It appears that he and two companions named Harry Butler and John Bailey had gone on a moose shooting trip to the northeast of the Fort. On the morning of Monday, November 19, the three were out on a moose hunt when they were detected and the party of three started in pursuit.

White got some distance in the lead and while leading Butler mistook him for the look-alike deer. He fired and the bullet lodged in White's back between his shoulders.

In an instant the terrible mistake was discovered and the two hunters rushed to the assistance of the wounded man. The nearest house was fifteen miles away and to reach it it was necessary to make a stakeholder in which White was carried the long fifteen miles to the home of Dr. Simpson where a carriage was procured and he was taken to Fort Saskatchewan.

There the wound was dressed by a local physician and White was brought to Edmonton last night.

An operation was performed this morning and it was found that the ball had entered the back near the left shoulder blade, splintering the bone and several of the ribs before passing on underneath the arm to the front of the chest. In the operation in the operation to probe the wound through the body. Three of bone were extracted and also some pieces of lead. After the operation the patient rested fairly well but there is grave danger of complications setting in owing to the length of time after the accident before medical assistance was given.

An inquiry into the facts of the case was made by Inspector Strickland, R.N.W.M.P., and as the wounded man is a resident of the city the case was referred to the local authorities. The young man had been employed at the Buffalo park at the time.

G.T.P. Denies Arrangements to Bring Out Japanese Labor—Immigration Enquiry at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B.C., November 20.—The immigration inquiry, Mr. McNeill, the local purchasing agent for the G.T.P., with a telegram from General McNeill, denied that that company had entered into any contracts or arrangements of any kind for the importation of Japanese labor. He stated that H. Hayes had no connection with the G.T.P. and that the G.T.P. officials who were in the B.C. T.P. Company, of which D. H. Hayes is secretary, had no connection with the company and accepted the statement and withdrew the subpoena for Hayes and Harbor Board, which had been at Prince Rupert.

Three other witnesses told of twelve hundred Japanese landing on July 25th from the British tramp ship, the "Kuremaru," which, as the witnesses, was chartered in Honolulu and was loading lumber for the company, who advanced the necessary $25 required as personal belonging, and a new light was thrown on the action of Consul Norikawa in demanding this $25 as cash. The witnesses also stated that the company had deposited his passports in a bag held by Norikawa's secretary, who was stopped by the local medical health officer, Dr. Munro, and R. G. Macpherson, M.P., after 200 had been deposited. Dr. Munro testified that the money each showed was not their own, as the Theodore Davis Co., of Honolulu, stated that they collected of Honolulu and were returning it through a ship's draft to ensure each having the necessary $25.

City Solicitor Cowan asked: "Then as Dominion officers they were hoodwinked?" "Yes."

The city solicitor sought to show that the consul was the agent of the immigration company. But this was denied by Commissioner King, who thought the consul's action consistent with the interests of his country, and he did not think it desirable to permit questions insinuating that the consul was the agent of the immigration company, particularly in the consul's absence.

Americans Interview Laurier.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—A large and influential delegation, comprising Senator and Assemblyman of the State of New York and the State of Vermont, along with other influential American and Canadian residents interested in fishing as sport, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to wait upon the Minister and others of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and to discuss the fishing regulations in Mississippi bay. They had an interview with the Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries this afternoon and will meet the minister tomorrow.

Mr. King is to proceed to the fishing bay of fish to be taken in Mississippi bay during the spawning season. The bay is a spawning ground for Lake Champlain, and a number of very fine salmon are raised there. The fish are rapidly disappearing, and the residents feel all the more because the fish is close through a dozen in the season granted by the Province of Quebec.

JAPS LEARN OUR WAYS.

Then Return Home and in Keen Competition Out Occidental Traders.

General, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—The British Minister to Japan, D. R. Bitter, has sent a long report to his government regarding the commercial progress of Japan in which he says that Japanese and Americans are being taught by the Japanese from the far east, especially from Japan. Dr. Bitter is undertaking to give an illustration of the progress of Japan in which he says that the Japanese government sent a man named Kato to Switzerland and America to learn the condensed milk trade conducted in these countries.

The man worked as an ordinary employee in the Swiss branch of the business in both countries and when he had mastered the details of the manufacture and distribution he returned to Tokyo. There he was able to sell the condensed milk trade conducted in these countries at a price sharply, and practical to drive out of the country all foreign goods that competed with his.

Bold Robbery in Macleod.

Macleod, Alta. Nov. 21.—A hold-up occurred here last night, resulting in the loss of a considerable sum of money. The victim, a man named John, was walking alone on the street when he was approached by two men. One of the men, who was armed with a revolver, demanded money from John. John refused, and the men threatened to shoot him. John ran, but the men followed him and shot him in the back. John was taken to the hospital, but his condition is critical.

fractors, to Skand & Co. of Calgary, and Kuchin, of Calgary.

The matter also contained an interesting item showing that F. D. Becker, manager for Staples & Co. of Calgary, was appointed the representative of the Alberta Retail Lumber Dealers' Association to present the grievances and complaints of the retailers before the manufacturers at their meeting in Nelson, August 1937. Mr. Woods followed up on the report was that the Alberta Association. The report stated that all the complaints were taken up and considered by the manufacturers at their meeting. The report also stated that the Alberta Association was the only one in the country to have a representative at the meeting.

It is reported Becker further stated that Horton had been interviewed, and though defending his action, promised not to repeat the offense. Becker added the significant phrase "the manufacturers are clean" in the matter now and have taken the matter well in hand.

Becker further reported that he made an attempt to prevent the manufacturers from shipping to the retailers, but they would not consent for well-stated reasons to do this. However, Becker was able to report that he had succeeded in obtaining a release of $1 per thousand for the retailers on all material shipped from the manufacturers to the retailers.

Invitation to attend the Nelson meeting was sent by the Mountain Mills' Association to Secretary Grogan, as the representative of the Alberta Association, and an invitation had representative from the Western Alberta Association, and an invitation had representative from the Western Alberta Association, and an invitation had representative from the Western Alberta Association.

How a Dealer Secured Membership. Considerable time was spent in investigating the manner in which a dealer secured membership in the association. The form of application to go through several weeks of investigation on a person having a stock of lumber before he becomes eligible as a member. In the face of the theoretical absurdity that he can not get a stock of lumber, it becomes a member of the Retailers' Association.

"After, however, protested that in seeking the sole desideratum in an applicant's eligibility by financial standing and to carry out the tenor of the by-laws.

Why did you forward the complaint of P. D. McLaren, of Macleod, to the secretary of the Mountain Mills Association when he was not a member of the Alberta Association?" "The complaint was forwarded to the secretary of the Mountain Mills Association when he was not a member of the Alberta Association."

"No. Just the voucher." The new Lumber "Savey" letter of P. D. Becker with respect to the application of member of the association, produced by Mr. Woods to show that the whole machinery of the association was at time involved in a dispute of the establishment of a new member at a given moment. He wrote to Grogan to discourage it. The letter was left to Mr. Dean, the director of the Dealers' Association, who advised Grogan to be out of the association. Mr. Dean's reply to him for one, with the significant objection expressed in the word "savey."

THE GOVERNMENT HAS NO MONEY.

A Montreal despatch yesterday contained the following curious aggregation of sentences:

Montreal, Nov. 20.—It now transpires that the Dominion government has no money, either to loan or to help the banks out. If the truth were known the finance minister is trying to borrow money from several banks. Your correspondent also learns that the Federal treasury is so depleted that they have absolutely refused to pay one cent to the provinces on account of additional subsidies. In connection with the above, R. Wilson Smith, one of the leading city financiers told your correspondent this afternoon that the Canadian banks have made all the necessary arrangements to meet the legitimate requirements, both as regards the moving of the crops and carrying on of the ordinary business of the country, and all this without having to call upon, or get assistance from, any quarter or the government.

The inference which it was designed that the reader should gather from this was that the Dominion treasury usually contains a store of money, but that owing to the improvident methods of the government the treasury was now "depleted," and that the money could be loaned to the banks by the government.

The facts of the case are of course that Federal treasury is always "depleted" so far as actual money is concerned, that it is the intention of our fiscal system that it should be "depleted," and that only by an absolute violation of that system could it be in any other condition than "depleted."

The treasury of the Dominion is not a treasure-house in the sense that a treasure-house is a place for the storage of money. The government of Canada does not hoard money in vaults or safes. It handles money exactly as the merchant or the farmer handles it—put it in the bank as soon as received and cheques it out from the banks as needed.

The government has no supply of coins or bills withdrawn from circulation and stowed away unused and unusable in the strong boxes of the treasury, and it is not the intention of our fiscal system that it should have. Unlike the American system the Canadian government withdraws no money from circulation. The money it receives goes directly into the banks and is thus immediately turned into the current of trade again.

The American government was able to come to the relief of the banks by releasing the money it had previously withdrawn from the business of the country; the Canadian government cannot relieve the Canadian banks in the same way, for the reason that it has not withdrawn any money from the business of the country.

If the Canadian government provides the Canadian banks with any supply of cash, it can do so only by borrowing the money from some source outside Canada, or by helping the banks to do so. All the money in Canada is in the currents of trade all the time, so far as the government is concerned, and the amount of that money can be increased only by importing.

The story of depletion of the treasury preventing payment of provincial subsidies is manifest nonsense, for the reason that the subsidies to all other government payments, are not made from the treasury, but from the banks.

The money stringency has produced some wonderful announcements, but for colossal stupidity or transparent deception, this Montreal correspondent appears to have captured the biscuit.

HOW TO PRESERVE OUR PULP WOOD FORESTS.

"Pulpwood and its Problems" is the title of a pamphlet issued by the Toronto Globe containing a series of articles recently appearing in that paper from representatives commissioned to investigate this important subject in the eastern provinces. Broadly speaking, the findings of the investigators have been to make plain a condition formerly vaguely understood to exist and to give impetus to the movement for an export duty on pulpwood. Briefly the situation is, that the American paper-mills have been practically exhausted the spruce forests of the northern States have invaded the Canadian woods, and ship annually millions of logs to be manufactured into paper in the mills across the border and consumed in that country. This of course provides employment for a considerable number of Canadian lumbermen, and it is to that extent beneficial to the country. If the annual cut did not exceed the annual growth there might be no objection to the continuation of this process; and if pulp trees were annual plants like the wheat and oat the arrangement would be a splendid one for Canada. But spruce trees will not grow in a year and a forest destroyed cannot be replaced for a generation. The cut, too, together with the ravages of the forest fires, is rapidly depleting the pulpwood forests of Eastern Canada. In consequence there is a growing sentiment in those provinces in favor of an export duty against Canadian logs destined for manufacture and consumption across the border. The subject is not one of pressing concern to Western Canada, as yet, but unless protective measures of some kind are taken, the invasion of spruce in a few years in the splendid pulpwood forests of our northern country. There is strong national ground for the imposition of an export duty, provided its purpose is to preserve this valuable resource from a process of destruction which yields only a minor amount of benefit to the country, and provided the duty appears likely to accomplish this result.

But this duty would only go half way toward preserving this resource. It went even that far. The pulpwood forests suffer from the rapacity of the Canadian manufacturer quite as surely as from the invasion of the American paper-maker. It is necessary not only to prevent the exportation of pulpwood, but to protect the forests in the production of pulpwood, by preventing the cutting of trees less than a specified size. If the forest are destroyed, the resource is gone, and from this standpoint it makes no difference whether the destruction is done by American or Canadian paper-makers. It is necessary to prevent the cutting of trees less than a specified size. If the forest are destroyed, the resource is gone, and from this standpoint it makes no difference whether the destruction is done by American or Canadian paper-makers.

The facts of the case are of course that Federal treasury is always "depleted" so far as actual money is concerned, that it is the intention of our fiscal system that it should be "depleted," and that only by an absolute violation of that system could it be in any other condition than "depleted."

AFTER THE BABYLONIANS.

New York adherents are after the ambitious parties who would emulate the Babylonians and pierce the heavens with towering structures. It is proposed to place a limit of 220 feet in the vertical dimension of buildings in that city. This seems like a generous allowance until it is recalled that buildings have already been erected there 200 and even 600 feet high. Theoretically the proportion of land involves the right to occupy the atmosphere above the land for an unspecified height. Practically, however, it is found that buildings beyond a certain height touch an injury to the owners of adjoining property and to the public at large, by shutting out sunlight and air from neighboring buildings and from the street. A city of such buildings would be a city of eternal twilight and perpetual gloom, a city whose streets would look like tunnels, small streets and broad avenues alike desolate.

Commercial Treaty With U.S.

London, November 20.—The commercial convention between Great Britain and the United States was signed at the foreign office today, between Foreign Secretary Grey and Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, under which British exports to the United States at one quarter less than the present rate. In return, American commercial travellers' samples will be admitted free of British duty. It is thought that the latter will tend to stimulate the United States exports to Great Britain. In future, duty on works of art will be only 15 per cent.

MUST GET TOGETHER.

Colonel Hanbury Williams Declares Rival Athletic Organizations Must Forget Private Differences.

Montreal, November 20.—The Montreal Star today gives the first account of Colonel Hanbury Williams on his plans for Olympic games and the Canadian athletic fight. He says he will be guided by these sentiments: "The first of purposes. To consider Canada only." "Hurry" is a difference for the sake of the nation's glory. The two fighting athletic camps, he says, will have to be brought together and stop washing dirty linen before the eyes of the world if they want to see Canada represented properly at the Olympic games. He has been deluged with letters for and against the Canadian Athletic Union and the Canadian Federation, and has even been told that unless he or Canada does so American athletes want that body will get angry and will not send the men to compete in London. He says that in this matter no attention should be paid to the United States. The job of seeing that Canada is well represented is too big to permit Canadians to have any interest in the work or doings of either country in this connection. Other countries, he says, can look out for themselves. He will do his best to bring the two fighting bodies together not only to make the Olympic games, but because he thinks it is the only salvation for Canadian athletics in future.

A cable from London announces that the Marathon course has been wrapped up. It was stated yesterday at the office of the British Olympic committee that matters have so far progressed that a rough outline of the course, the extent of which would be 26 miles 385 yards, had been agreed upon. The starting point, of course, is the shore, and the probabilities were that it would be in the park, as this would ensure that degree of privacy which is almost essential for a race of this kind. The competitors following the highway will make across to various points, thence to Sudbury, Skating Wonders Park, and to Wornwood Scrubs into Woodbine. So far as the critics are concerned, the outlook is most satisfactory and present indications point to completion of the course about 1900. The date for closing entries has not yet been fixed.

The cost of the medals will be very heavy—perhaps over $1000. The other expenses will also be large as it has been decided to issue an appeal for funds.

NOT MURDER IN SELKIRK.

Shooting of Galician By Brother Was an Accident.

Selkirk, Nov. 20.—The adjacent inquiry into the death of Max Bialko on Monday near Little Britain, was resumed this afternoon at the home of the deceased. The only evidence taken was that of Paul Bialko, the brother, who did the shooting. His story was that there was some making about the counter that he was wearing. He got up from the table and went to the mirror to look at himself. Noticing the gun standing in the corner he picked it up to hang it in the proper place on the wall directly over where the deceased and Palek were sitting. In so doing he was wearing the gun was discharged. The reason for his disappearance after the shooting was that his neighbors came in and threatened to punish him for the discharge of the gun. Yesterday's evidence practically corroborates the story. After a lengthy consideration the jury found "that the deceased came to his death by being shot by his brother Paul who was unable to see whether the shooting was intentional or not." The prisoner was released from custody.

THE NOVA SCOTIA CLAIMS.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—E. Barfield has been appointed commissioner in the York County Loan and Savings Co. to go to Halifax for the purpose of getting evidence regarding the claims of Nova Scotia shareholders. Wm. Douglas, K.C., C. B. Scott and C. A. Mason are counsel for the general body of shareholders, liquidator and Nova Scotia claimants respectively, will accompany the commissioner. They will leave here Saturday night. The deputy attorney-general, Mr. Mulvey, informed Knappell today that statement of claim will have to be altered, as the wording is technically incorrect. Mr. Mulvey, of the vice at one time secretary-treasurer of the York Loan, stated under examination that for as he knew the board of directors never sanctioned the management's extending operations outside the province. This was done, he thought, on the initiative of the management.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 20.—The police are searching for Adolph Carpenter, of Victoria Harbor, Ont. It is believed he has not with out put game over the falls. He is 60 and came to visit his daughter, Mrs. A. Lamb. At eight o'clock Monday he said he was going for an hour's stroll, and has not been seen since.

Four Federal By-Elections.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—There will be four more by-elections for the House of Commons before Christmas. The existing vacancies are in Stetson and Lethbridge, vacated by the resignation of the Hon. C. R. Duffin and Henri Bourassa respectively. The other two will be in Ottawa and Centre York, where the Hon. N. A. Belcourt and Arch. Campbell will be elected to the Senate. There is every possibility that the senatorial appointments will go through before Saturday, and that the dates of the by-elections will then be announced. They will take place about December 12.

Governor Would Stop Prize Fight.
Des Moines, Iowa, November 21.—Governor Cummings today dispatched the last of the series of letters to Sheriff Davenport calling on him to stop the prize fight. The fight law is violated in tonight's fourteen bout between Herman and Merriand. The sheriff wrote to know whether he ought to enforce the law by stopping the fight. The governor answered that the laws ought to be enforced to the letter, and that if a check-out is contemplated the fight could be stopped.

IRELAND IN MISERY; CONGESTION RUINOUS

Dismal Conditions Are Set Forth in Report of the Royal Commission—Improvements Where Land Question Is Settled.

London, Nov. 20.—The government has just issued the voluminous evidence taken before the royal commission on the congestion in Ireland, and money are the gloomy and dismal phases of life in the Emerald Isle, which can be picked out of its pages.

Rev. Thomas McManus, a parish priest of Killarney, County Carlow, supplies one which is typical of many. He says that as soon as the youth of the country are able to provide for themselves they fly off to America, thus leaving the aged and young children to look after the home, with the result that the land is not tilled as much as they should be, the children are not sent to school and all depend for support on the credit given by the local shopkeepers, waiting for the American dollar.

Depressing Conditions.
The further result is they become loaded with debt, and if the shopkeepers refuse them credit, there is nothing before them but an emigration to America or the workhouse.

Father McManus states that anything that might be called land in the north, a rural district, is at present given over to potato growing, the people having been banished in and after the famine years to the mountains and to America. There are masses of poverty all around. The people are half-dead and half-starved, and the land is degenerate, and the surface of the country itself is a barren wilderness. But a brighter phase of Irish life is to be seen in many parts of Ireland, where the land question is no longer a political but an economic one. A few years ago, Danish butter took the place of Irish butter in the markets, and the Danish pig was in demand as a triumph over his living brother and a derelict of his own sty door. Other countries were no less aggressive, and it was useless for the dairy farmer of Limerick to care to have grass so rich you could grow a pig on it when butter, that was its outcome, was rejected by the buyers.

Plunkett Finds Reason.
When the darkest hour seemed to have arrived, Sir Horace Plunkett took the burden of his countrymen on his own shoulders. He found that the reason for the Irish being what they are of the markets of the world were want of joint action and want of scientific, practical knowledge. Science had been at work both in the Danish farm and in the Scotch dairy. Danish farmers had co-operated, had formed, first, creameries which gave them a great quantity of cash, then feeding and afterward co-operative butter factories. Again, the Danish government had come to their help with technical instruction, expert advice and material support.

Kapeta were sent to England and other countries to report on the wants of the markets. The yearly contribution by the state to the promotion of agriculture is $340,000. The same course has been followed in France, Austria, Holland, Bavaria, Belgium, Wurttemberg, Hungary and Switzerland.

Gives Good Advice.
But for Ireland, the country of all others most dependent on agriculture, practically nothing had been done. Sir Horace Plunkett told the farmers they must begin among themselves. "Self help, by mutual help," was his motto. He showed them how important it was to combine and trust one another and to work together on lines that farmers in other countries had worked on.

He formed an agricultural organization with societies in different parts of the country, where the farmers were taught to work out their own salvation, and not listen to the political agitator. Success has resulted. The trade of the creamery societies is steadily increasing. In the power districts co-operative banks have been established and farmers can now borrow money at 6 per cent. instead of paying 20 per cent. as a few years ago. Money is never lost except for productive purposes.

Money in Poultry.
Poultry societies also have been started and are proving a great boon, for, though hens lay as well in congested districts as elsewhere, eggs could only be sold at a normal price to travelling hawkers or hawked on very bad terms at the village shop. In those parts of Ireland where the people become industrious and thrifty everything is going very well, but in districts like that described by Father McManus there seems to be no hope, because the hands are of the worst quality, the soil consisting of a yellow dash, with a mixture of sand, ruins to the health of cattle or of crops. Anything that might be called land is at present under hedges, the people having been banished to the mountains.

Catastrophe in France.
Paris, Nov. 21.—A catastrophe occurred today on the road which is being constructed between the villages of Amboise and Thionville, near Grasse. The road follows the river for a considerable distance, and is along a rocky bank of the river. It is now under an almost complete arch about two miles from the Lozay railway bridge. Some thirty men were working at this point, when the side of the mountain gave way. The road was covered with debris for a distance of thirty yards, and seventeen men were buried beneath the fallen earth. Two men were taken out alive. A man who was buried under a rock talked for some time with those trying to save him. Their efforts were useless and the man died some time later. Fourteen bodies have been recovered.

SPORTING NEWS

PHILLIPS FOR OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—It is stated authoritatively that Frank Mitchell, the greatest center-forward that ever played hockey, will not turn out for the Ottawa team in the Stanley cup series. Mitchell did not play last year, but was considered to be one of the probable occupants of his old position in the coming season. The reason for his withdrawal from the arena, however, is now being ascertained. It is thought that with Phillips, the Ottawa team is being brought into line. When Alf Smith went West last season to help Kenora, Mitchell in his stead, and the Ottawa team was defeated. Phillips promised Mitchell he would come to Ottawa this year and play the red, white and black. It has been in the direct cause of the team's disintegration that Phillips is in, but the great reason is for from it. The fact that every one of the seven Kenora players wanted the credit for taking the Stanley Cup West, is said to have been the direct cause of the team's disintegration. The Ottawa team on paper looks one of marvellous strength, and a local hockey promoter is prepared to back it against the field in the E. C. H. L. this winter. It is expected that Mitchell will be better than he ever was this winter. The team is practically made up of the following: Alf Smith, Moore, Dufford, rover, Taylor, Westwick, right, Alf Smith, left, Tom Phillips.

THE OTTAWA SCRAP SETTLED.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The much talked about hockey war here has come to an end and the prospects are bright for some strong play in the coming season in the E. C. H. L. The players who were in the Ottawa team yesterday afternoon and the difference between the two factions were thoroughly smoothed out. Mitchell, who was shot was exchanged by both sides, and, accordingly, however, the matter was reached, and the meeting got busy and elected officers. The only change from last year is that Mr. P. Dickson, replaces M. N. Sparks as Secretary. The meeting yesterday resulted as follows:

President, Geo. Murphy; vice-president, "Reddy" Baker; Secretary, P. Dickson; Treasurer, Eddy Bockerville. All the old players are on the team, and the majority of the officers and both sides said that everything was satisfactory. The only change in the choice of J. P. Dickson as Secretary is that he is an energetic hockey player and was prominently connected with the game for many years. The players suggested his name for secretary. Frank McGee was at the meeting and it is stated that he will play again this season, but this is very doubtful. An officer of the club announced last night that Tom Phillips, the crack Kenora player, might possibly line up with the Ottawa team. In fact, he is expected to report here in the next few days.

SIX DAY BICYCLE RACE.

Boston, Nov. 20.—Floyd Kriebel, the partner of Hugh McIntire, carried his victory in the six-day bicycle race at the Park Square rink last night by winning the eighth and final heat. Kriebel, who is in excellent form, and was prominently connected with the game for many years. The players suggested his name for secretary. Frank McGee was at the meeting and it is stated that he will play again this season, but this is very doubtful. An officer of the club announced last night that Tom Phillips, the crack Kenora player, might possibly line up with the Ottawa team. In fact, he is expected to report here in the next few days.

Kriebel and McIntire, 1,147 miles, 1 lap; Munn and Jager, 1,147 miles, 1 lap; Ross and Burdett, 1,147 miles, 1 lap; Milton and Morgan, 1,147 miles, 1 lap; Downing and Hooper, 1,147 miles, 1 lap; Lombard and Sherwood, 1,147 miles, 1 lap; Wild and Anderson, 1,147 miles, 1 lap.

STALLINGS WANTS ROCHESTER.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 20.—One of the officers of the Buffalo Baseball Club says that George E. Stallings is desirous of buying the Rochester club and to try to build baseball up in the dead city the same as he did here. Stallings has always believed that Rochester, properly handled, is a good baseball town, and he once told the writer that he would go like anything better than to step into Rochester and prove it. When Mr. Stallings was in Buffalo he refused to say anything about his plans for next season, but made a significant remark to the effect that he expected to be managing a team next season. "If everything is going to be lightening for some championship fight before I die," he declared.

HOWELL AND LAUDER MATCHED.

Calgary, Nov. 20.—The articles of agreement have been drawn up for a four-round boxing contest between Kilo Howell, of Minneapolis, and Billy Lauder, of Toronto. The fight is expected to be pulled off in December according to the date that a hall of suitable building can be arranged for. Clean break rules will govern the contest, and both men will weigh in at 135 pounds at 5:30 in the afternoon. A satisfactory referee will be chosen. The winner and loser respectively have been agreed upon and Chief Stuart will act as referee. The articles will be signed tomorrow.

MAY DROP CHALLENGE.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The challenge of the Winnipeg hockey team, champions of the Manitoba Hockey league, for the Stanley cup, which was accepted some time ago by President H. H. Foster, may be dropped by that club. The challenge was sent in when Kenora held the cup, and the Winnipeg club did not expect to have to come East after it. The trustees wrote the Winnipeg team that their challenge was accepted and inquiring when the champions would like to play. Winnipeg, however, has received this challenge was the first one in, and would have right-of-way over any others.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Wanderers are not losing any sleep over the talk of Bruce Houston's turning out with Montreal, and Mr. W. H. Murray, the president of the Wanderers' Hockey club, when spoken of the matter, said that he was not at all concerned. The Wanderers' captain would go to Montreal, but he is not at all concerned. The Wanderers' captain would go to Montreal, but he is not at all concerned. The Wanderers' captain would go to Montreal, but he is not at all concerned.

What Determines the Real Nutritive Value of Beef? You probably know nothing about Penmian except that it is a somewhat offensive mixture. The fact is Penmian—(pounded deer meat with the melted fat poured into it)—retains more of the original meat value than most of the Fluid Beefs and Beef Extracts so much in evidence.

Once the albumen and fibrin of the Beef is lost the whole nutritive value is gone. BOVRIL— and BOVRIL only—of all preparations of Beef retains the whole nutritive value of Beef in a highly concentrated form.

No solid meat extract contains the albumen or fibrin consequently no such preparation has real nutritive value. Medical men and nurses understand fully what this means and that is why BOVRIL is used in every large hospital in the world.

BOVRIL is for your use.

UNDERWEAR.

Tom Longboat will never be permitted to compete again as an amateur in the United States, say the A.A.U. officials. Stevens' efforts are being made by Longboat's manager, Tom Flanagan, who has the Indian placed in good standing in the Amateur Athletic Union, but the officials of the latter organization say that the only way for Longboat to succeed is to capture the A.A.U. three times the offers out and run the union himself. According to the American professional of the A.A.U., Longboat has been a professional from the time he began his athletic career.
